

The English language has become the most used languages in the world because of development in tourism sector. Some individuals say that this would make the English language the only way to communicate worldwide. This essay will discuss the advantages and disadvantages of having one universal language before arriving at a reasonable conclusion.

The major advantage of having single global language to communicate makes communication convenient between people from different linguistic backgrounds. Moreover, people do not have to worry about the language barrier when they travel to different parts of the world because everyone speaks the same words. Additionally, they can easily adapt the circumstances as there will be less chances to get confused about others' perception. For instance, countries like New Zealand, Canada, Ireland and UK have made the knowledge of English language for those who wants to immigrate there, because they believe that immigrants would not face any difficulties while communicating.

However, despite the benefit of making single language a global tool to communicate could lead many languages from different communities to disappear from the world. This means, single since only one language would be an operational tool, people would be reluctant to learn other languages. As a result, many languages that are operational from ancient times would face extinction. For example, a recent study states that every month 10 less spoken languages are being extinct from our planet because many nations widely practiced commonly used languages as their communication tool.

In conclusion, the convenience in communication with the use of one common language is the primary merit of single global language system, but extinction of other languages from other countries and communities around the world is its major demerit.
