Date

Nowadays social media has become a powerful tool to interact over traditional interaction methods. Although it has certain disadvantages, this essay will examine and state the reasons that why advantages may overshadow disadvantages and provide a logical conclusion.

The two main benefits of using technology for social interaction are ^{easily} accessibility and no physical interaction is required. Firstly, the advantage of technology has made interaction more convenient between people. Because there are numerous social networking websites on the internet, people can access them from anywhere in the world through any technical gadget. Secondly, being active on social media eradicates physical involvement. In other words, many social networking applications provides chat, text and call services, through which people can interact with each other without any physical interaction. For instance, one can easily call or chat through whatsapp platform and talk without even visiting to that same person physically with no issues.

On the other hand, social media has some disadvantages too. Because of over-dependence on media applications, communication has been reduced. Adding to that, people prefer to call or text instead of face-to-face meeting as they are busy in life. To illustrate, people failed to show their emotions and share their feelings because of having less or no face-to-face ^{inter}actions. However, they failed to recognize the fact ^{that} it saves ^{Spiral} lot of time and cost by connecting remotely even though it has few limitations.

To conclude, although social media can have certain negative impact like making people obsessed with social platforms and less interpersonal skills, it has an extremely positive influence on how these media platforms have evolved people lives by reducing human efforts and provides ease of accessibility. I believe that these benefits of social communication outweigh its drawbacks.
