

Dear Sirs,

I am a resident of Allwood colony in South London. I am writing this letter in reference to the new houses which you are planning to build opposite our residential area.

I got to know about this plan from one of my relatives who is also working in your company. This plan seems very much exciting to me as it should lead to exponential increase in our home property prices.

I am also interested in buying a new home in this project hoping that it would offer superior facilities for it's home dwellers. Please let us know about the project in more details so that we can decide upon buying our new home.

Yours sincerely,
Mohit
