

It is believed that news papers are best possible to learn news, but with the improvement in technology some people think that there has evolved numerous ^{better} ways to receive news. In my opinion with the fast changing world people should get acquainted with modern day means of communication.

The traditional way receiving the news is through the newspapers since decades, people reading newspaper for many people is a daily chore. as this was the only medium to learn news once upon a time people has got habituated to reading newspaper daily, it has become part of their daily schedule. newspapers maintain their integrity and which is very important for authentic news. newspaper gives detailed analysis of news with editorials, research papers, so people believe that it is still the best way to learn news.

However with the improvement in technology there has evolved numerous ways of to receive news with the change lifestyle people are asking for quick information where time has become money, modern day visual media has made lot of changes in the communication of news, people could receive the wherever they are and also what ever the time it might be. people now has the information on their fingertips.

immediately after the news has happened at any corner of the world

In my opinion both are important to receive the news as both has their own advantages of posting the news to required audience. People should preserve traditional newspaper journalism and should catchup modern technology. Newspaper and other media has their own way working, so I feel both are important for people while receiving news
