

(1)

classmate

Date _____
Page _____

It can be seen on a large scale that individuals are more into the foodstuff that can not be produced natively. This has become the sudden change in the course of the choice of the people that has led to higher consumption of food from the other regions in contrast with the local dishes. This essay will analyse the cause of this fashion as well as portray the opinion with the justified reason.

Globalization is the major cause for the preference of continental food over the food that is produced in our native land. Due to the transport facility that has developed by the technological inventions having any cuisine is just a call away. Not only that, when students go for their studies abroad, they have no options left rather than having food prepared there, this is why they develop adaptability to this speed up or less speed up food. For instance - the

(2)

classmate

Date _____

Page _____

generally notice that kids opt for noodles rather than home cooked meal.

Definitely, it has a positive impact on the people around the globe. There are so many restaurants like Mac Donald, Subway which have been operated in our nation that enables to enjoy the food items there and share cultural values. The other benefits that youths are into it, by being a professional ^{bloggers} which enables them to earn money even they get global recognition.

In conclusion, it is noticeable that people from all over the planet are mostly enjoying the food that is beyond the borders. So, for the people of any country it has become their choice and it is palatable for them.